Salvatore Martorano, 2015

Mr. M, as he is lovingly called around St. Vrain, made his reputation early on as a demanding but kind and compassionate director. Nowadays, many band directors in St. Vrain share the same sentiment: when students know that Sal is coming, they are giddy with excitement. His gregarious personality energizes the students and his passion for music is infectious. His influence is felt long after he leaves the rehearsal. Sal began his career in 1973 at an Elementary School in Alamosa. His 40+ year career as a band director has included tenures at Erie Junior/Senior High School, Longmont High School, and Longs Peak Middle School.

Sal is a master of building programs. Building the band program from 26 to over 400 students at St. Mary's High School or 48 to over 150 at Longmont High School are just two examples.

But Sal has not only brought quantity, he has brought quality to each school. At Erie High School his Jazz Band performed at the CMEA convention and opened up the USAF Falconaires. His concert band also performed at the CMEA convention as well as the ASBDA National Convention. Both groups took top honors at the Colorado West Festival and Pikes Peak Cavalcade of Music Festival.

Sal has held numerous leadership positions in the band community including President of CBA, Chairman of the All-State Jazz Committee, Secretary of Phi Beta Mu, and President of the Colorado Italian Musicmasters Association. He's conducted countless honor bands and judged at festivals all over the state of Colorado. If that weren't enough, Sal performs regularly on clarinet and saxophone and maintains a successful private studio.

To know Sal is to love him. He just brings a smile to your face whenever he's around. He is a one of a kind, and we are so lucky to have him in Colorado.

Sal is a graduate of Trinidad High School, Adams State College (B.A.) and Lesley College (M.A.) with graduate work at UNC, CU, Adams State, and Western State.

salvatore martorano jr: *Street Soldier Edward J. Mackenzie Jr., Phyllis Karas, Ross Muscato, 2010-04-20 Featuring all the trappings of a Scorsese film, this first-hand account from one of Whitey Bulger's enforcers is "one of the best" insider accounts of life inside the mob (Washington Post) During the 1980s, Edward J. MacKenzie, Jr., "Eddie Mac," was a drug dealer and enforcer who would do just about anything for Whitey Bulger, the notorious head of Boston's Winter Hill Gang. In this compelling eyewitness account—the first from a Bulger insider—Eddie Mac delivers the goods on his one-time boss and on such former associates as Stephen "The Rifleman" Flemmi and turncoat FBI agent John Connolly. Eddie Mac provides a window onto a world rarely glimpsed by those on the outside. Street Soldier is also a story of the search for family, for acceptance, for respect, loyalty, and love. Abandoned by his parents at the age of four, MacKenzie became a ward of the state of Massachusetts, suffered physical and sexual abuse in the foster care system, and eventually drifted into a life of crime and Bulger's orbit. The Eddie Mac who emerges in these pages is complex: An enforcer who was also a kick-boxing and Golden Gloves champion; a womanizer who fought for custody of his daughters; a tenth-grade dropout living on the streets who went on, as an adult, to earn a college degree in three years; a man, who lived by the strict code of loyalty to the mob, but set up a sting operation that would net one of the largest hauls of cocaine ever seized. Eddie's is a harsh story, but it tells us something important about the darker corners of our world. Street Soldier is as disturbing and fascinating as a crime scene, as heart-stopping as a bar fight, and at times as darkly comic as Quentin Tarantino's Pulp Fiction or Martin Scorsese's Goodfellas.

Inserra, 2014 This book was written as a tribute to all the agents who were assigned to Criminal Squad #1, more commonly referred to as the C-1 Squad, of the Chicago Division of the FBI from 1957 to 1976, a period of nineteen years. These agents were pioneers, who were required to wage war against one of the most powerfully entrenched organized crime organizations in the country since the days of Al Capone. It was at a time when the FBI did not have all the tools or legislation necessary to combat organized crime but they accomplished their goals aggressively with whatever means were available. This is a story of the unique challenges confronting these dedicated agents and the incomparable results achieved which resulted in severely disrupting and curtailing the activities of the Chicago mob. Mr. Inserra also chronicles parts of his career prior to and following his FBI experiences.

CONTAINS A NEW EPILOGUE Mafia Prince is the first person account of one of the most brutal eras in Mafia history -- Little Nicky Scarfo's reign as boss of the Philadelphia family in the 1980s -- written by Scarfo's underboss and nephew, Crazy Phil Leonetti. The youngest-ever underboss at the age of 33, Leonetti was at the crux of the violent breakup of the traditional American Mafia in the 1980s when he infiltrated Atlantic City after gambling was legalized, and later turned state's evidence against his own. His testimony led directly to the convictions of dozens of high-ranking men including John Gotti, Vincent Gigante, and the downfall of his own uncle, Nick Scarfo -- sparking the beginning of the end of La Cosa Nostra (the insiders' term for the Mafia, translated as This Thing of Ours).
